

HORNER'S MEN BOLT SESSION OF COMMITTEE

Governor's Forces Defeated; Campbell Elected

BULLETIN
Springfield, Ill., May 12.—(AP)—Downstate members of the Democratic state central committee set up their own campaign organization today when Governor Horner's forces bolted the meeting in which Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville was re-elected state chairman.

Campbell was re-elected by his own vote and those of nine of the ten Chicago committeemen.

Fourteen downstate committeemen and Daniel Sullivan, retiring secretary, in a "rump" meeting elected Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville as chairman of a downstate campaign committee.

Governor Horner, who met with the bolting members, said:

"I am very gratified with the splendid spirit of these downstate committeemen who refused to be bound by the decision of a Cook county meeting held in the Morrison hotel yesterday.

"Bruce Campbell voted for Bruce Campbell and the taint of his election as a downstate chairman, with his own vote the only downstate support for him, speaks for itself."

Other officers of the downstate group are: Charles V. O'Hern, Peoria, first vice chairman; John W. Yantis of Shelbyville, second vice chairman; Joe Knight of Dow, secretary; and Martin R. O'Brien of Aurora, treasurer.

Springfield, Ill., May 12.—(AP)—Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville was re-elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee today as thirteen members affiliated with the Horner administration faction walked out of the organization meeting.

Friends of Governor Horner refused to vote for Campbell, who supported the Kelly-Nash ticket in the April primary campaign's factional split.

The Horner men offered their services to the governor for his campaign and announced that they would organize their own committee to work independently of Campbell's outfit.

Dixon an Officer.
Campbell was the only downstate who stayed with the nine Kelly-Nash committeemen from Chicago.

Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville, the governor's choice for the chairmanship, was not nominated.

Campbell received 897,421 votes, cast by himself and nine Cook county committeemen, who had control on the total primary vote basis.

John P. Dougherty of Chicago was elected the committee's secretary, replacing Daniel Sullivan, the governor's administrative auditor.

Other officers elected by the Chicagoans and Campbell were: first vice chairman, Leo J. Slaski, Chicago; second vice chairman, Sherwood Dixon of Dixon, and treasurer, John C. Martin of Salem.

"It is unthinkable that the campaign be run by an organization re-nominated by the people," Charles V. O'Hern of Peoria declared.

"The net result will be that downstate committeemen will organize their own campaign committee. This has divided the interests of the party and cost us a lot of votes."

The Horner contingent first refused their credentials before the election of a temporary chairman, claiming that a straight majority vote should prevail at that point.

As the Chicagoans insisted that total district votes should prevail, O'Hern shouted:

"I object to having this thing railroaded. If carried through, it means the members of two counties will run the committee. I am not going to be a member of that kind of a committee. The men now trying to run this committee are from Cook county where they get control by sedition."

"We give you the votes," a Chicago member yelled.

O'Hern was ruled out of order on a motion to delay the proceedings until the state ticket nominees could be consulted. The Horner men then walked out.

M. B. Welsh of Blandinsville and Joe Knight of Dow returned to the meeting to east anti-Campbell votes for the temporary organization. Knight asked for harmony and said Hershey should be the chairman because the governor wants him. Campbell was elected temporary chairman, 897,421 to 87,054, over Hershey. John P. Dougherty of Chicago was named temporary secretary.

The old committee's treasurer, John C. Martin, announced that he had a balance on hand of $10,444.27. He reported receipts of $100,917.18 and disbursements of $90,416.91.

VETERAN OF TWO WARS KILLED IN DIXON LAST EVE

Fatally Injured Under Train on Which He Was Stealing Ride

Vincent Liebermann, veteran of the Spanish American and World wars, met a tragic death here last evening, while en route from Buffalo, N. Y., to Twin Falls, Idaho, riding freight trains. When westbound NorthWestern freight train, No. 115, arrived in Dixon about 5 o'clock, Liebermann, who was stealing a ride on it, went to the stock yards east of the station to procure a drink of water, while the locomotive was switching cars in the yards. The train had started west when he attempted to board a tank car and was thrown between the platform and west bound main line track, his right leg being terribly mangled, and his death resulting about a half hour later at the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital.

Fred Knodle and Nathan Blackburn, employed at the stock yards, witnessed the tragedy and notified Richard G. Reiley, baggage man at the passenger station, who went to the man's side, placed him on a stretcher and removed him to the ambulance. Liebermann was conscious and told Mr. Reiley that he had boarded the freight train at Chicago and was on his way to visit a sister in Idaho.

Inquest Held Today
He was taken to the hospital where he passed away at 5:40 last evening. The body was removed to Staples mortuary where Coroner Frank M. Banker conducted an inquest at 9:30 this morning. Knodle and Blackburn testified having seen the stranger run toward the moving train and attempt to board a tank car. In so doing, he appeared to have slipped and fell between the platform and cars of the train just east of the depot. Witnesses stated that he attempted to push himself away from the trucks of the cars as the train gained momentum, but his right leg was finally thrown beneath the cars. Knodle ran to the depot where he informed employees and the train was stopped. The verdict of the jury was one of accidental death.

Relatives Notified
A passport found among Liebermann's belongings gave his birth place as Buffalo, N. Y., and the

Nephew of Dixon Policeman, Well Known in Dixon, Found Dead in Oak Park; Believed Victim of Murderer

Patrolman Gilbert Gleesner returned home late last night from Chicago, where he was summoned early yesterday by the tragic death of his nephew, Merle Mabie, 29-year-old Oak Park news manager, who has visited in Dixon with relatives on many occasions and was quite well known in this vicinity. The conductor of a Northwestern suburban train discovered Mabie's body lying beside the track at an elevated station on Central and Lake streets Monday morning at 3 o'clock. One side of his head was terribly crushed and the young man was believed to have been murdered. The presence of his watch, a sum of money and other valuables in his pockets discounted the theory of robbery.

An inquest was opened yesterday afternoon, but was recessed until May 21 to permit further investigation into the tragic death of the young news dealer. He had played golf at a club near Oak Park Sunday afternoon with a close friend and after supper attended a theater with the same companion, who accompanied Mabie to his home after the show. He had not entered his home after leaving his friend and the manner in which he reached the place where his body was found early yesterday was a mystery confronting Oak Park police and detectives.

Mr. Mabie is survived by his wife and three children, residing in Oak Park and several relatives in this vicinity. Funeral services will be held in Oak Park Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, interment being made at Forest Park cemetery.

HINDENBURG OVER SEA ON RETURN TRIP

Biggest Zeppelin Sailed With 48 Passengers

Lakehurst, N. J., May 12.—(AP)—A new "Hindenburg Line" was being drawn today—but his Hindenburg was a silver queen of commerce, and the line was being drawn across the skies between Lakehurst and Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany.

With 48 passengers aboard, the huge Zeppelin which spanned the Atlantic so swiftly last week, lifted her stubby nose toward stars that studied a cool spring night, made a hurried courtesy call on New York City, and then headed out over the Atlantic.

The Zeppelin passed over Cape Canzon, the eastern extremity of the mainland of Nova Scotia, about 540 miles northeast of Lakehurst, at 12:15 Greenwich time (6:15 A. M. Central Standard time) today.

First of Ten Trips
The Hindenburg was starting the return journey of the first of ten round trips planned for the summer between Germany and the United States—trips which Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin Company, hopes will bring the establishment of a permanent German-American commerce in the North Atlantic skies.

The airship lifted gracefully from the sandy surface of the Lakehurst naval air station at 10:27½ P. M. Eastern Standard Time, headed into the southerly wind for a mile, circled eastward and then pointed its silver nose to the north.

Within an hour it passed over New York. From there its course followed the Great Circle route, the shortest path to Europe, over the Atlantic.

Hope for Record
Its officers were hopeful of reaching the home port at Frankfurt-on-Main in six or seven hours under the record time of 61 hours 57 minutes it established on the westward trip which ended here at dawn Saturday.

Some of the passengers who, in holiday mood, waved farewell to the United States last night will return on the same ship next week-end.

The passengers included 13-year-old William Goggin of Cleveland, 86-year-old Harriett P. Hague of Worcester, Mass., and two U. S. naval observers.

DEFENSE RESTS CASE AGAINST BANK ROBBERS

St. Charles Holdup Suspects Gave Testimony

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—The defense in the trial of three men accused of the $15,000 robbery of the St. Charles National Bank on January 31 rested today. Closing arguments were scheduled to get under way this afternoon, with the probability that the case would go to the jury late today or tomorrow morning.

Sam Bongiorno, one of the defendants, was the final witness. He corroborated testimony given yesterday by Fred Hansen, alleged leader of the robbers, that the hold-up was instigated by John Edward Gordon, a St. Charles special policeman, and Percy Rehm, a St. Charles florist and captain of the community vigilantes.

Phillip (Blackie) Dimenza, the third defendant, did not testify.

Bongiorno answered only two questions. He said he had heard Hansen's testimony and that he knew it to be true.

Hansen had related that Gordon and Rehm planned the robbery for the purpose of obtaining a reward for Rehm and a regular police job for Gordon. Hansen said he promised to recruit the actual robbers on the promise that he would get 25 per cent of the reward and that the bandits would be captured by Rehm and Gordon as soon as they left the bank.

The plans went wrong, Hansen said, because the bank vault was opened an hour earlier than they expected and Rehm and Gordon were not at hand to make the capture.

"DEVIL'S BEEF-TUB" KILLER IS HANGED IN JAIL

Slayer of Wife and Her Nursemaid Executed in England Today

Manchester, Eng., May 12.—(AP)—Dr. Buck Ruxton died on the gallows of the Strangeways jail today for the "Devil's Beef-Tub" slayings of his wife and a nurse maid.

Mrs. Violet Van Der Elst, militant campaigner against capital punishment, encountered a hostile reception from a large crowd outside the jail while the dark, salt-skinned Parsee physician was hanged for England's most gruesome crime since the turn of the century.

Mrs. Van Der Elst, determined to protest against the execution, drove up to the jail in a limousine accompanied by two loud speaker vans. Police turned back the trucks, not permitting them to approach the jail.

The crowd pressed about the limousine, which drove within 70 yards of the main gates, shouting, jeering and hooting.

The 36-year-old Dr. Ruxton was hanged shortly after 9:00 A. M. (2:00 A. M., CST.).

Black Flag Signal
Promptly 15 minutes later a black flag was run up in the prison tower in evidence that British justice had exacted its penalty for the murder of Mrs. Isabella Ruxton and the killing and dismemberment of her maid, May

ITALY CALLED DELEGATES TO COUNCIL HOME

Warns Britain Not to Continue Waving Sanctions

Copyright, 1936 by The Associated Press

Rome, May 12.—(AP)—A diplomatic break between Britain and Italy would be inevitable, reliable sources said today, if British diplomats continued to "flourish the whip of sanctions" and insisted on Ethiopian representation at the League of Nations.

Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador in London, was instructed to present to the British government the resolution creating the new Roman empire with annexation of Ethiopia.

Reliable sources said the ambassador was instructed also to try to "make Britain like it."

Reserved Attitude
The Italian government adopted an attitude of "maximum reserve" toward league council deliberations over Ethiopia.

The controlled press was ordered to follow this policy in all comment on Geneva development pending news of how the international organization would receive finally Italy's contention that a separate Ethiopia no longer existed.

The Italian senate was convened for an extraordinary session Saturday, probably to ratify creation of the new Italian empire, and Fascist officials said Victor Emmanuel might be crowned Emperor of Ethiopia at the sacred city of Aksum.

Robinson, Captured by G-men in California Monday Night, Admits Kidnaping

Hurried to Louisville in Plane During Night

Louisville, Ky., May 12.—(AP)—Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., was brought here by airplane today by justice agents by airplane today from Glendale, Calif., where he was captured last night as the kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, Louisville society matron.

Robinson, whose confession of the $50,000 kidnaping of the socially prominent Louisville Junior League Oct. 10, 1934, was announced by J. Edgar Hoover at Washington, landed at the municipal airport here at 11:21 Central Standard time.

His dapper moustache neatly clipped, young Robinson was rushed to one of three automobiles in which federal agents awaited his arrival. Placed between two agents, he was whisked towards downtown Louisville, five miles away.

Guards Were Armed
Of the dozen federal agents who met the silvery twin-motored plane which brought the fugitive from California, two were armed with machine guns and one with a shotgun. The agents were under command of C. C. Dewey, agent in charge of the Louisville office of the department of justice. Once in the car, which was only 40 feet from where the plane landed, Robinson bent his head and pulled his hat over his face.

The transport plane, piloted by Milo H. Campbell and Frank Busch of Los Angeles, flew here from Glendale in 11 hours and 40 minutes, making only two stops, one at Albuquerque, N. M., and the other at Wichita, Kans., where it refueled.

Slept Part of Time
Pilot Campbell said Robinson slept part of the time. The prisoner was handcuffed to his seat during the entire trip.

Robinson's brown suit was rumpled and his tie-less shirt open at the neck. He appeared to be in good spirits and much heavier than descriptions of him sent out by the government.

The pilots said the four agents who accompanied Robinson here had no difficulty with the prisoner.

Pilot Campbell said Robinson "kidded" with the agents and crew at times. When joined by one of the pilots about "getting a free ride," Robinson retorted. Campbell said, "I'd sure a hell of a lot rather be paying my own way."

Robinson was taken to the federal bureau of investigation's offices on the seventh floor of a downtown office building.

Agents placed him in a private room and pulled down the shades. Shortly afterward one of the agents took a sheaf of papers from one of the files and returned to the room where Robinson was.

Passed Resolution
Its sole act was to pass a resolution reading:

"The council, having met to consider the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia, recalls the conclusion reached and the decisions taken in this matter by the league since October 3, 1935, is of the opinion that further time is necessary to permit the members to consider the situation created by the grave new steps taken by the Italian government, decided to resume its deliberations on the subject June 15, and consider that in the meantime there is no cause for modifying the measures previously adopted in collaboration by the members of the league."

Sanctions Remain
(The latter clause refers to the sanctions imposed against Italy by the members of the league.)

Wolde Mariam, Ethiopian delegate, asked the council to condemn Italy's decision to suppress the sovereignty of Ethiopia.

The Ethiopian demanded the application of the punitive provisions of article XVI of the league covenant.

Joliet, Ill., May 12—(AP)—Michael F. Henneby, 63, who for 12 terms had represented the 41st district in the Illinois general assembly, died today at St. Joseph's sanatorium at Wedron, Ill., it was learned here.

He was educated in the Grundy county schools and was graduated from the University of Notre Dame.

He first served in the 41st general assembly. He was elected again as a representative in the 48th general assembly and had served continuously since then—the dean of the House.

Jane Rogerson, sometime last September.

Actually, Dr. Ruxton, who deserted his Parsee wife in India in 1925 to come to England, was convicted and hanged only for the slaying of the woman he married while studying in Edinburgh.

The crown prosecution charged, however, that he also killed Miss Rogerson, slashed her to bits and cast both bodies in the “Devil’s Beef-Tub” ravine near Moffat, on the Scottish border.

At the moment of Dr. Ruxton’s death, Mrs. Van Der Elst called through one of her loud speakers: “Will the gentlemen in the crowd please bare their heads?”

A number of women wept, but only a few men removed their hats. Some of the crowd later joined in singing the hymns, and some knelt in prayer.

Three Children Wards
“The man whose ‘perfect crime’ was foiled through painstaking scientific detection which included more than 2,000 tests of the bodies, left three children in England, now wards of the state.”

The children, Elizabeth, 6, Diana, 4 and Billy 3 now in a state institution were told their father and mother had gone away for a visit.

Ruxton was understood to have made a will referring to the future of his children and expressing hope that his son would, like himself, become a physician.

Ruxton’s aged mother, a brother and sister live in Bombay where the physician was known as Bakhtyar Rustomji Rustonji Haim.

The body of Ruxton, who was arrested Oct. 13 and convicted on March 13, will be buried in a shallow quicklime grave in the Strangeways jail yard.

The conferees abandoned the idea of incorporating into the resolution the doctrine of Henry L. Stimson, formerly secretary of state of the United States, refusing recognition to the acquisition of territories by force.

As they questioned Cikowski police indicated they would release some of the 51 other prisoners.

Among those headed for freedom was Raymond Furr, lanky 22-year-old photo engraver held yesterday to explain lacerations on his hands.

A lie detector test was ordered for Cikowski when Healy and others finished questioning him. He told Healy he was a native of East St. Louis, Ill., and said he had lived for a time in Cleveland.

He is a high school graduate, Cikowski said, with three years of university work.

Negro Discoverer
of Body of Lindy
Jr. Seeks Reward

Trenton, N. J., May 12—(AP)—William Allen, who four years ago today discovered the body of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., is actively seeking at least a portion of the $25,000 reward offered by New Jersey.

Allen, a negro, said he had retained a lawyer to watch his interests in the reward, and a few weeks ago had an interview with Governor Hoffman.

The governor told him, he said, that he wasn’t much in the picture, but he pointed out that if he hadn’t found the baby’s body on Mt. Rose hill, two miles from the Lindbergh home, Bruno Richard Hauptmann could not have been executed.

Allen was given a job at a state institution soon after his discovery but later lost it and obtained work with the relief administration. Now he is back at his old job and happy to get it.

Rudy’s Dream Girl
Sues for Divorce

Los Angeles, May 12—(AP)—Rudy Vallee’s former “Dream Girl” steered their broken romance toward a divorce court today to make final their sensational disagreement of three years ago.

Fay Webb, dark-eyed daughter of the Santa Monica police chief, charged the curly-haired orchestra tenor with cruelty in a complaint preceded by what her attorney, Ben C. Cohen, termed a “satisfactory and amicable adjustment of their financial affairs.”

Cohen said Vallee could not contest the divorce.

The suit virtually ended a five-year story of marriage spotted with bickering, alleged by friends and girl friends, fond occasions of making up again and renewed farewells.

The couple’s difficulties reached a high point soon after their separation in April, 1933, when Mrs. Vallee sought to have voided an agreement under which she received $100 a week.

Flood, Influenza
Menace Ft. Yukon

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 12—(AP)—A flood emergency at Fort Yukon, aggravated by an outbreak of influenza already responsible for six deaths, was reported to the News-Miner today in a radio dispatch.

The whole town, 150 miles north-east of here, was flooded by an ice breakup yesterday and the air port also was under water, preventing relief by plane, the newspaper’s Fort Yukon correspondent said.

Although the water was receding, there was further danger from ice gorges in the Yukon and Porcupine rivers, the News-Miner learned from its correspondent, Mrs. Emily Randall, wife of a Deputy U. S. marshal.

Naperville Youths
Want Liberal Rules

Naperville, Ill., May 12—(AP)—Striking students of North Central College announced today, after an unsuccessful mediation meeting with the faculty and trustees, that they would continue their agitation for more “liberal” rules.

The meeting ended in a deadlock at midnight. Dr. E. E. Rail, president of the college, and Bishop G. E. Epp, president of the board of trustees, appealed to the strikers to desist.

Approximately 100 of the 550 students enrolled remained away from the school yesterday. They demanded less regulation of their social activities and also sought the retention as student secretary of Wilbur Molte, whose contract the trustees failed to renew last week.

The kidnaper left ransom demands written on legal stationery. A later note named Robinson’s wife as intermediary. The ransom finally was paid to her and she took a train for Indianapolis where, according to justice agents’ accounts, Mrs. Stoll had been held captive in an apartment.

Some time later, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Stoll arrived at Terre Haute, Ind., where they were met by federal agents.

Subsequently Robinson’s wife and her father were acquitted of charges in connection with the kidnapping.

FOUND IN A LAIR?
Los Angeles, May 12—(AP)—The Herald and Express said today that Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., wanted for the kidnapping of Mrs. Alice Stoll, was arrested in a “lair on the outskirts of peaceful Glendale.”

The house, said the newspaper, “served both as a love nest and underworld hide.”

Federal agents declined to comment.

The newspaper said: “This much leaked out, however; Robinson was not arrested in a hotel and the refuge where he has hidden out for two months was littered with feminine wearing apparel of a size that he could not have worn.”

Believe Woman There
“A strong belief was prevalent in Glendale that a woman was taken into custody at the same time Robinson, whispering and with no attempt to go for the 35 gun he had on his hip, made his cowering surrender.”

“The house where the G-men nabbed Robinson is believed also to have provided a haven

"TAKE MY ADVICE"
By Joseph Fort Newton

RAW young recruit in the American army was doing some fatigue duty when a man in uniform passed. "Hey, buddy," the recruit said, "give me a light, will you?" The man in uniform smilingly obliged.

As he walked away, another soldier who was standing near, when he had recovered from his amazement, exclaimed to the recruit, "For the love of Mike, do you know who that is? That's General Pershing."

The young recruit, staggered at first, picked himself up and ran after the General. "I am so sorry, sir," he said abjectly, "I've been in the army only a few hours, and I'm afraid all uniforms look alike to me. I hope, sir, you will not think—"

Pershing smiled and patted him on the back: "Never mind, son," he said, "that's all right. 'Only'—he paused, with a twinkle in his eye—"only, take my advice, and never try it on a second lieutenant, or you may really get into trouble."

James Black, who tells the story, adds one of his own, when he was a "raw young divine," and was a guest of a fellow minister in Scotland. Two other men were present, but he did not get their names distinctly.

One of them, a tall lanky fellow, was very nice to the young theologian, and listened engagingly to his cock-sure talk. He even asked his opinion about certain matters, and his chest swelled.

A little afterwards, Black bent over his host and asked in a whisper who the long, lanky man was whom he had so charmingly patronized. "Oh, didn't you know?" said his host, "That's James Moffatt!"

Moffatt—one of the greatest scholars in the world, whose translation of the Bible is a treasure to his age. No wonder the young theologian was silent and uncomfortable—but he need not have been.

The charm of big men is that they are always big. It is the small man, desperately anxious to be thought great, who is touchy and demands that his rights and dignity be respected to the uttermost. Truly great men are simple, natural, and genuinely modest; they care little for the little things that little men make ado about.

Congress Parents and Teachers Convened in Galesburg

Milwaukee, May 12—(AP)—Delegates to the 40th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers today faced a challenge to form in the home the type of character which will enable children to cope with a changing world.

"The character-forming home is not a place in which one tells individuals to memorize platitudes," said Dr. C. Bromley Oxnam, president of DePaul University, in the keynote address prepared for delivery today. "It must be done by participation in activities which create habits in social, world and God consciousness."

The educator named as trends in the changing world the shifts from competitive struggle to cooperative enterprise, selfish nationalism to intelligent internationalism and the primary desire to acquire things to a striving for character development.

The congress went over protests of Mrs. Robbins Gilman, Minneapolis, and voted to change its legislative campaign against undesirable motion pictures by dropping its 1935 endorsement of a federal censorship board and supporting the anti-block booking and blind selling bill. AFTER ITALY, GERMANY!

The question of Germany's former colonies has been taking on increasing importance of late. It almost begins to look as if Europe could not solve its present complex problems without giving Germany some of or all her former colonial possessions.

Those possessions represent part of the price that Germany demands if she is to keep the peace, say, for the next 25 years. It is well known that Herr Hitler views the acquisition of colonies as highly important, both as a source of raw materials and as an outlet for population.

Hence arise the questions—when, where, and how will Nazi Germany get her colonies? Will the major powers divide with her? Are there available lands she might buy, as the United States bought Alaska? Or will Germany pursue the Mussolini course and fight? The peace of Europe may hang on the answers to these questions.

DON'T HATE MUSSOLINI FOR AFRICAN VICTORY

The Italians mopped up faster than anyone expected, and the Lion of Judah is due to go the way of Abd el Krim and Sitting Bull and all the other barbaric chieftains who got in the way of ambitious white men.

Ethiopia is a long way off, and the death of men in its muddy valleys has made little impress on our emotions.

We read the dispatches, struggled with unpronounceable names, felt a little flare-up of sympathy for the frail, strangely dignified monarch of the doomed empire, and then turned our attention to baseball, the presidential campaign, or some other domestic concern.

But the whole affair is worth a second glance; not merely because the conquest of Ethiopia may contain the seeds of more serious trouble later on, but because it has given us a first-hand study of the seamy side of history.

It isn't a pretty spectacle. No one can enjoy watching a husky bully move in on a weakling to possess himself of the weakling's goods and chattels. But it is an old, old story, and we ourselves have contributed several chapters to the writing of it.

Mussolini's assault on Haile Selassie has all the earmarks of a New York or Chicago gang sending its muscle men in on a rival's territory; it is as direct, as unmoral and as ugly as that.

Granted. But we delude ourselves mightily if we blame it all on the rapacity and greed of Mussolini himself. Every great nation has done the same sort of thing. It is war itself that is ugly.

A disinterested observer back in the 1840's might have seen our own war with Mexico in precisely the same light. Certainly, our ruthless obliteration of the western Indian nations would have looked no better. And the English conquest of South Africa, the French seizure of the Sahara, and the maneuvers by which the Dutch flag rose over Java are cut out of the same cloth.

What it comes down to is that we have no cause to work up a lather of moral indignation over what is happening to the emperor of Ethiopia. We live by a system which drives strong nations out to conquer the weak. We are today reaping the profits of that system. Can we afford to adopt a holier-than-thou attitude toward Italy?

If the conquest of Ethiopia disturbs you, with its dark implication that might does make right, after all, in this modern world, your cue is to hate—not Italy, not Mussolini, but war itself, and the world system which enables nations to profit by war.

TAXING DIVORCES

More and more Soviet Russia swings back toward the fundamental values of the home and of the family. In the last year there has been increasing agitation for strengthening the position and permanency of marriage.

And now comes the most significant move in the whole trend—a proposal to discourage divorces by taxation. It is embodied in the marriage law that is being drafted to double the tax for each divorce after the first.

What such a tax might do to some of our own 100 per cent American divorce court veterans is something to shudder at. But it is worth noticing that the Russians believe that its chief value will be as a preventive of hasty marriages. To marry in haste and repent at leisure is not so good, if the "leisure" gets progressively more costly.

COLLEGE MEN WANTED

There is exceedingly good news awaiting the college graduates of 1936. More jobs are open for them than at any other time since 1931.

Robert F. Moore, secretary of appointments at Columbia University, points out, for instance, that many business and industrial organizations were faced with "an alarming gap" in their personnel forces because of depression economics. As a result, not only are there four times as many requests for college graduates this year as in 1935, but the starting wage level has risen.

Whereas the top salary a young graduate could expect last year was $100 a month, compensation this year is $125 for the best positions and $100 for "average" jobs. Those that formerly paid practically nothing now offer up to $85 a month.

This represents the beginning of a foothold for youth. The absence of that foothold has been one of the great tragedies of the depression.

TOMORROW'S NEWSPAPER

Whatever you may expect of the newspaper of the future, it is interesting to visualize it through the eyes of the modern educator. Take, for example, Dr. Garry C. Myers, head of the department of parent education at Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Dr. Myers sees tomorrow's newspaper as a real "educational institution," being used as an instrument in the classroom to supplement textbook material. The increase of syndicated columns covering a wide range of human discussion is a definite trend toward a more "educational" newspaper, he believes.

There is undoubtedly vast opportunity for newspapers to become more and more an educational force and thereby to render increased public service. Can we doubt that the country's editors will accept the challenge?

PAW PAW NEWS

By Mrs. John Ulrey

Paw Paw—Charles E. Zeigler, a resident of this community for 30 years, answered the death summons last Thursday afternoon. He had been well known around here and has been an industrious hard working man, quiet in his ways and manner and respected by all who knew him. For the past year he has been in failing health and a few weeks ago was taken to the hospital at East Moline for treatment, where he died April 30. The remains were brought back to Paw Paw where short funeral services were held at the Torman funeral parlors Sunday with Rev. Vouga, pastor of the Baptist church, in charge. Burial was in Wyoming cemetery.

Rural Commencement

Eight of the rural schools of this immediate community held their eighth grade commencement exercises at the high school gym Tuesday evening. The room was filled with relatives and friends when Miss Velma Mittan took her place at the piano for the march. There were 13 young boys and girls who marched to the stage, followed by Supt. H. C. Barton, speaker of the evening. Rev. McKelvey and Co. Supt. L. W. Miller were also on the stage during the evening. The teachers had very neatly and artistically decorated the stage in the class colors, American beauty and white and the class motto "Climbing" was displayed in an attractive way. Following the invocation by Rev. McKelvey, two special numbers were given by the trio, Marjorie Mortimer, Rosemary Nangle and Aris Adams with Miss Work at the piano. The address to the class by Mr. Barton was splendid and it is hoped that the members of the class will keep the thought with them as they go through life's way. Marylou Locke in a vocal selection was well endorsed. The diplomas were then presented by Supt. Miller with a few words of advice and the hope that all these young people would be able to finish a high school course. A short reception followed the close of the exercises. The following received their diplomas: Delbert Ikeler, Doris Northcutt, Junior Durr, Alfred Volkert, Joseph Hood, Harold Simpson, Maxine E. Snyder, Dorothy I. Kettley, Franklin Barber, Doris Kern, Robert Hanners, Marilla Haug, Vernon Haug, Robert Wisted and Adeline Heiston.

The following assisted little Dorothy Ann Roesser celebrate her third birthday Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roesser and Miss Ruth Polisch; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Truckenbrod and niece, Dorothy Truckenbrod and a neighbor, Mrs. Sadie Tyreman. The birthday cake was most appetizing as well as prettily decorated in colors. It is hoped that little Dorothy has many more happy birthdays.

Little Freddie Burnett, aged 3 while going to town in his little wagon while on Main street at Baker's corner, overturned his wagon, falling down into a basement, a distance of five feet. He received a bruised head and was lamed up considerably and was lucky not to have had any bones broken.

Miss Vallie Ulrey of Mendota spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ulrey and visited her grandmother, Mrs. Effie Cornell.

THE TWYNTIES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The old prospector's bird was strong. Said Duncy, "Take me right along. I don't know where you're bound for, but I have a happy hunch."

"The Twynities are far away, but we will get to them today. I certainly will be real tickled when I join the bunch."

"My good friend, the prospector, sent you out for me. 'Twas his intent to save me from a long hike. That's my guess. I'm sure I'm right."

"To all the Twynities he's been kind, and there's no place where you will find a finer man. You've saved me from a very scary plight."

The bird just chirped, and flew along. For quite a long time naught went wrong. Then, up above, some black clouds gathered, blotting out the sun.

Thought Duncy, "It will rain. I'll bet, and then I will get soaking wet. Hey, little bird, go up above the clouds! Can it be done?"

The small bird promptly circled round. Up, up they went until they reached a clear space in the air.

The dark clouds now were far below. As Duncy eyed them, he cried, "Oh, I'm glad that we are up here, 'cause it's raining hard down there."

About a half hour passed, and then they started dropping down again. By now the clouds had blown away and everything was clear.

All of a sudden Duncy spied the Twynities below. One cried, "We'll hold a blanket for you, lad. Come on, now, drop down here!"

The blanket then was spread out wide and to the bird brave Duncy cried, "Please let go of my shoulders! I am not afraid to fall."

He quickly landed, safe and sound. The blanket made him bounce around. The Twynities held on tightly. Then came laughter from them all.

Scouty starts digging for a treasure in the next story.

Rollo, accompanied by two members of the high school faculty, Miss Dorothy Bryant and E. G. Horn and Robert Benson and Mrs. Thomas Douglass went to Springfield last Thursday where he competed in a state music contest, playing two selections on his violin. There were 24 competitors in the group for violins and the results have not yet been announced. Thomas is a former Paw Paw boy.

BUDA GRADUATES HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET AT CLUB--

Princeton--Places were laid for 57 guests at the annual banquet of the graduating class of the Buda high school which was held last Saturday evening at Bureau Valley Country club. Decorations were carried out in the class colors of black and silver, and Scotties adorned the placecards and programs, while colored gum-drop boutonnières were given as favors.

The tables were arranged in a sun-burst effect, seven being used. Bouquets of spring flowers added to the festive effect, lilacs, tulips and valley lilies predominating.

Following the dinner, Robert Smith, the junior class president, gave a toast, and the response was made by the president of the senior class, Larry Smith. A song was sung by a boys' quartet composed of Robert Lamb, James Peterson, Robert Smith and Lowell Philbrook, after which O. J. Litwiller, principal of the high school, gave a talk. Winifred Renick presented a reading and a vocal duet was sung by Ruth Arnold and Gwendolyn Webb, with Audrey Popp as accompanist. Miss Popp also accompanied the boys' quartet. At the close of the program the school song, "Buda Loyalty" was sung. Music between the courses was furnished in the form of a piano solo by Miss Popp and a trio, composed of Laura Huntley, violin, James Peterson, saxophone, and Audrey Popp, piano.

Later in the evening Coan's orchestra of Sheffield and Keawnee played for the dancing.

EMERGENCY MEALS PROVE TEST OF COOK'S CLEVERNESS

However much we may plan ahead, and smoothly as our household schedule runs ordinarily, there will arise those puzzling situations, such as the arrival of unexpected guests when we have only the remnants of last night's roast, or times when we have to skates which she won by sending in a coco-malt box top and a joke to be read on Jolly Joe's program over radio station WLS.

prepare a quick meal for the family. Perhaps it is good for us to be put on our mettle now and then, to find out just what we can accomplish with little on hand, or a short time to work. It quickens our wits and makes us feel cocky when we manage to perform a little kitchen magic.

It is good to have a few of these quick and fancy recipes on hand. It might not be a bad idea to try them out before the emergency arises, after the principle of the fire-drill.

A meat pie is one answer to the problem of making a small amount of left-over meat serve more portions than you thought it would. If you have the vegetables ready cooked, or choose ones which are cooked in a hurry, this is also one of those quick dishes for the hurry-up meal.

Meat Pie

1 cup diced cooked meat
4 tablespoons lard
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 cup diced cooked carrots
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup diced celery
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk or meat stock

Slowly brown the onion, pepper, celery and meat in hot lard. Add flour gradually, stirring constantly, until brown. Add remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly. Pour into shallow, well-oiled baking dish. Cover with biscuits or a border of mashed potatoes. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) until biscuits are done or mashed potatoes are browned.

A tasty dish, fit for a most special guest, may be made of left-over lamb.

Souffle of Lamb

1 1/4 cups cold lamb, minced.
2 egg yolks
2 egg whites
1 3/4 cups milk
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
Pepper.

Beat the egg yolks, add milk, thickened with flour, smooth into the butter, and season with salt and pepper. Cook until slightly thickened. Cool. Add meat and stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a casserole, place casserole in a shallow pan containing 1 inch of hot water. Bake for 30 minutes or until the souffle is firm in center.

Another left-over dish which may be given a party flavor is Veal a la King.

Veal a la King

Cut left-over cold roast veal into small dice. Make a medium sauce by combining flour with melted butter, gradually adding milk or veal stock and cooking slowly until thickened. Season with salt and pepper, finely diced green pepper and pimiento and paprika. Mushrooms which have been fried in butter, diced celery, cooked peas or other left-over vegetables may be added, if desired. Cook slowly until the meat and vegetables are heated through. Serve in toasted bread baskets, patty shells or on toast points. Decorate with parsley and strips of pimiento and green pepper. Top with a cube of currant jelly.

But suppose there isn't any left-over meat to help you out when a hasty or unexpected meal must be prepared. To be ready for any situation, the canny housewife keeps certain supplies on hand, in refrigerator or on the "emergency shelf" of the pantry. The ready prepared meats, dried beef, various kinds of sausages, etc., are a veritable "first-aid" kit in a kitchen emergency.

Probably there is nothing which helps out more, however, than to have a supply of bacon ready at hand. That versatile stand-by can be used as the main dish for any meal of the day and can be used to give flavor and distinction to other foods you may have. And it is always so easily and quickly prepared.

Here is a quick dish in which bacon plays its part.

Grilled Plate With Scrambled Eggs

3 tomatoes, peeled
4 eggs, scrambled
6 slices toast, buttered, cut in triangles
6 rounds toast, buttered
6 slices bacon, broiled

Cut tomatoes in half crosswise. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and place in pan under hot broiler until partially cooked. Place on round of toast. Pile scrambled eggs on tomatoes and place slice of bacon on top. Serve on platter, garnish with toast triangles. The tomatoes and bacon may be pan-broiled instead of oven-broiled, if you prefer.

Here is a suggestion for serving sausages with a bit of style.

Baked Sausages With Fried Bananas

Prick the sausages with a fork and place them in a heavy frying-pan. Set in a moderate oven. When browned on one side, turn and brown on the other. Lay each sausage on a finer of toast and serve with fried bananas.

Fried bananas: Remove the skins cut the bananas in two lengthwise. Squeeze a few drops of orange juice on them. Roll in flour and fry until a delicate brown.

Springfield, Ill.--Cattle and hogs on Illinois farms continued to increase during 1935 while horses, mules and sheep decreased, the Illinois and Federal departments of agriculture reported.

TIGERS VIEW BETTER DAYS LYING AHEAD

Hot Months Offer Gruelling Test of Endurance

By ANDY CLARKE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Things are looking a bit brighter in the camp of the champion Detroit Tigers.

Harried by early season injuries and form reversals, the Tigers have had a tough time of it thus far but there is reason today for Mickey Cochrane to contemplate with a little more hope the burning days ahead, the gruelling days of summer when, Mickey asserts, the team with class and endurance will step out front.

Two ball players, Tommy Bridges and Irving Burns, are the reasons for the new bit of optimism. Bridges, a mainstay of the pitching staff last season, had three defeats and only one victory to his credit until yesterday's game with the Cleveland Indians when he came into his own to pitch five-hit ball and win, 8 to 3.

Shows Burst of Power

Burns, a weakling at bat since he jumped from a substitute berth with the Browns to fill the important shoes of Hank Greenberg, the Tiger first baseman who suffered a broken wrist, showed his first burst of power with the club, getting a home run and a single in four trips to the plate.

The victory enabled the Tigers to climb back into the first division as they unleashed batting power all down the line. Al Simmons got three hits, one a triple, in four times at bat. The Detroit "jockeys" also were in fine fettle, irking Johnny Allen, who was driven from the box after four innings, so that the temperamental pitcher wanted to punch Del Baker, Tiger third base coach, and Cochrane.

The Phillies took advantage of the short right field fence at Baker field to drive out five home runs but the Giants also took advantage of it in the ninth to land the blow that gave them a 13-12 victory. It was a hectic ball game in which the lead changed five times and eight pitchers saw duty, five for the Giants. A total of 31 hits were made with the Phillies getting 16.

Bangs Payoff Homer

Mel Ott, who drove in a total of eight runs altogether, banged the payoff homer in the last inning with two on, two out, and the Giants trailing by two runs. Manager Bill Terry of the New York team, who is leading both leagues with a batting average of .538, got three hits for a perfect day at bat.

The Chicago White Sox rode a barrage of 22 hits, eight for extra bases, to a 19-6 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. It was the 13th straight defeat for Rogers Hornsby's team.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, held scoreless for eight innings, tied the score with the Boston Bees in the first half of the ninth and then lost the game when the Bees scored again in their half for a 2-1 victory. Babe Phelps' single tied up the score for the Dodgers but Wally Berger, who had opened with a single, scored the Bees' winning tally when Ben Geraghty threw wild to the plate.

In an exhibition game, the Red Sox downed the Pirates 11-6, scoring seven runs in the seventh inning.

TRIP INTERRUPTED.

Springfield, Ill.—A collision between his bicycle and a truck interrupted 73-year-old Uriah Mason's scheduled road trip between Springfield and Meredosia, 53 miles away. He suffered scalp lacerations and chest injuries.

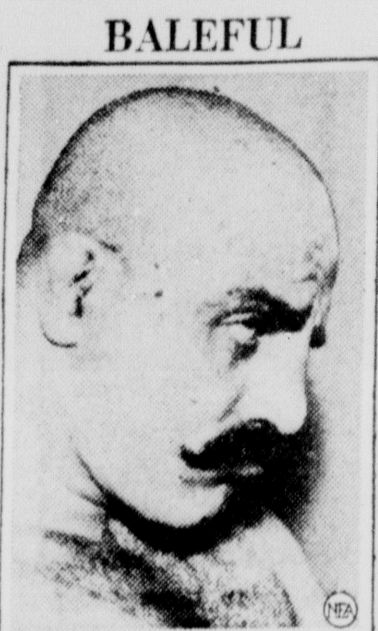

Trees breathe through tiny openings on the under side of their leaves. A single apple leaf has more than 1400 of these pores.

OUTLOOK ROSY

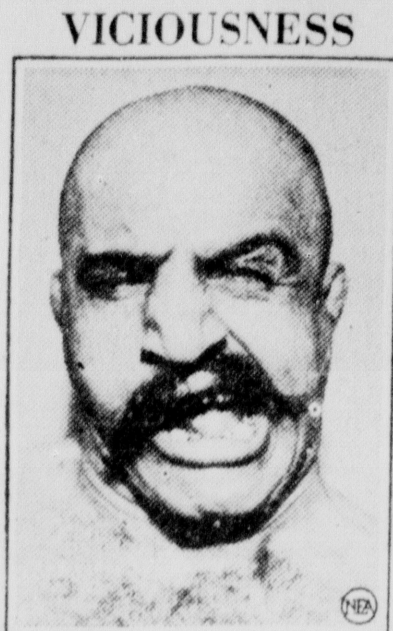

Inasmuch as he finished second in 1934, Mauri Rose, of Dayton, O., above, cannot see why he shouldn't win this year's 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Speedway on May 30. Rose will pilot a four-cylinder car with a front wheel drive.

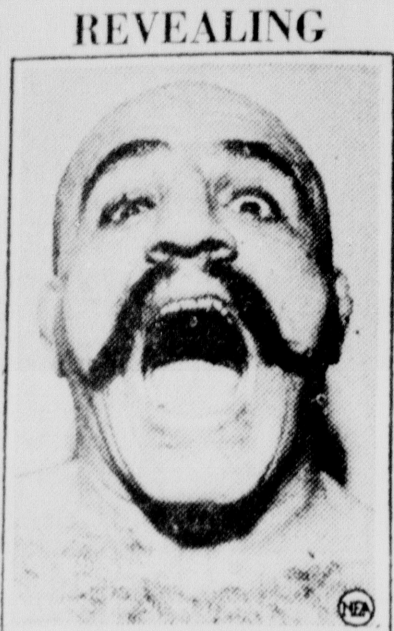

ALI BABA GOOD ENOUGH ALONE! NO FORTY THIEVES

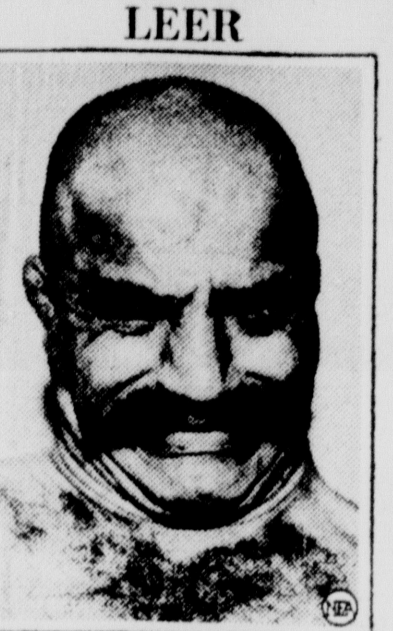

BALEFUL
Opponents quake when Ali Baba, newest wrestling luminary, turns this glare on them. It embodies all the mysticism of his native Kurdistan.

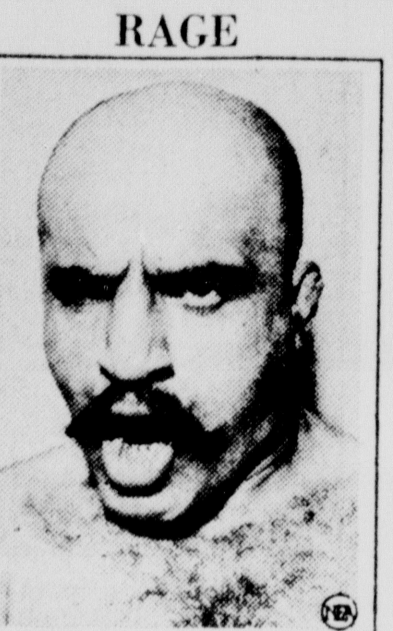

VICIOUSNESS
Gr-r-r-r! This is one of the ferocious expressions that accompany Ali Baba's terrifying roar. Jagged molars, framed by a flowing mustache, terrorize.

REVEALING
Ali Baba says that he subsists principally on lamb and vegetables. The limb twister from the wilds of Kurdistan proves this by letting rivals see.

LEER
Ali Baba has been known to pin big, strong fellows with a dirty look. This one scatters those in the ring-side pews and chases reporters beneath the ring.

RAGE
Hold everything when Ali Baba gets mad. In place of tearing up the ring when in this state, the killing Kurd usually hurls an adversary out into the crowd.

PAIN
Ali Baba cannot go on being the Terrible Turk forever, and is not at a loss when it is his turn to register pain. The ear makes him official.

LITTLE'S FALL AMAZES FIELD U. S. GOLF OPEN

McFarlane, Voight Hines Also Are Eliminated

By The Associated Press

Lawson Little, double winner of both the British and American amateur golf championships, will be among the missing when the national open play begins in June.

Playing at Hartford, Conn., yesterday, the long-driving Little failed to clinch one of the eight New England berths as he carded 77-75-152 for the 36 holes and saw six pros and two amateurs pass him by.

The downfall of Little was the most astounding upset in the sectional qualifying rounds that took place in all parts of the country. Other players who have carved niches for themselves in the golfing world also went down, however. Leo Diegel, with 154, just missed at Newtown Square, Pa., where Joe Kirkwood, the trick shot artist, gave up the ghost after posting an 81 for the first round. Willie McFarlane, 1925 national open titlist, Jimmy Hines, third ranking money winner in last winter's campaigning and George Voigt, a Walker Cup player, all failed to qualify at New York. Harold (Jug) McSpaden was on the outside with Little.

Fails to Appear

Scotty Campbell, the former Canadian amateur champion, failed to make an appearance at Portland, Ore.

Max Marston, former national amateur champion, was named second alternate from the New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania district after posting 79-75-154 while Felix Serafin managed to squeeze in with an aggregate of 153.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, one of the best amateurs in the country, led the qualifiers in the Omaha district and Johnny Revolta and Tommy Armour finished in that order at Chicago with 143 and 145 respectively.

Billy Burke who won the open in 1932; Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, runnerup in last year's intercollegiate play, and Maurice McCarthy, Jr., qualified at Cleveland and Clarence Doser, gained the select circle at Buffalo, N. Y. Morton McCarthy qualified at Richmond and Jack Munger at Dallas.

The best score for the 36 hole play was turned in by an amateur, Sam Perry, who walked in ahead of the field at Birmingham, Ala., with a card of 69-69-138.

Johnny Revolta Experiments On Putting Green

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—Johnny Revolta picked a dangerous spot to experiment with his putting game yesterday—but the experiment was so successful the national professional and western open golf champion is going to go right on experimenting.

The Evanston professional adopted an upright position with feet close together and had his game on the greens clicking well enough to give him a 36 hole score of 144 that led Chicago qualifiers for the open test. Johnny sank several nice putts, including a 12-footer for an eagle three on the eighteenth in his morning round of 71, one under par.

Eldena Ties West Brooklyn 6-6; Rain Halts Encounter

Baseball fans were treated with quite a thrill last Sunday when the Eldena team came through with a rally in the eighth inning to score five runs to tie the West Brooklyn 6 to 6. The game was called at the end of the eighth on account of rain.

It was the first appearance of the Eldena team at home and a large crowd turned out to see the boys in their new uniforms and to watch the game.

Next Sunday the Eldena team will battle the Dixon Panthers on the Eldena diamond.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, May 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Jimmy McLarnin has made up her mind and that means there'll be no return bout with Tony Canzoneri, or anyone else. Just as well, too. . . . Jimmy is through—and everybody seems to know it except Jimmy. . . . The best judge of baseball talent in the country is Branch Rickey of the Cardinals. . . . and the best prophet to date is Joe McCarthy of the Yanks. . . . Way back in March Joe said he'd show them a few things if Gehrig, Gomez, Chapman and Dickey had normal years. . . . And is he?

Notre Dame has its Bill Shakespeare and Marquette its James Fenimore Cooper. . . . You'll see a lot of James Fenimore at end next season. . . . Oscar Eckhardt of the Dodgers says the greatest difference between the Pacific Coast league and the National is the infighting. . . . A funny speech from the guy who led the coast loop in batting but can hit only a puny 190 for the Dodgers. . . . Did Oscar omit the pitching comparison because he can't see the National League brand?

Raymond (Bear) Wolf falls heir to a pretty good football team at North Carolina this season. . . . But if they keep that Graham plan on the books he'll need all the prayers in Texas and North Carolina next year, believe you us. . . . Why is it the Yanks can bowl over the Indians, Red Sox and Tigers, but catch the very devil from second division clubs? . . . Send your answers to Joe McCarthy, care Yankee Stadium. . . . If baseball fans knew the whole story of the Paul Derringer case they wouldn't be so quick to saddle all the blame on the pitcher.

Already N. Y. headline writers have shortened it to "Di Mag." . . . Mark this down: Louis and Schmeling will shatter all records for a non-title "gate." . . . The Giants need a pitcher and some infielders to get back in the National League race. . . . And President Horace Stoneham has told Bill Terry to get them regardless of expense. . . . Trouble is, Bill doesn't know where to get them. . . . Mike Jacobs took the leash off Joe Louis long enough for Joe to be introduced in the Garden the other night. . . . McLarnin and Canzoneri put on the best show we've seen in the two years of looking at 'em from the front row.

Attention Big Ten: Minnesota's eleven guard candidates are taking the battle for jobs so seriously they will not speak to each other in the locker room. . . . Which doesn't make Bernie Bierman's gray head grayer. . . . Football aces can break down sales resistance as well as forward walls. . . . Gen (Clim) Campbell, former midwestern star, with only two months' experience, topped all the agents in the Topeka (Kans.) district for a big insurance company in April. . . . And the runnerup was Ernest.

HORNSBY SADLY VIEWS BLASTED BROWNS HOPES

Thirteen Straight Defeats Suffered by St. Louis

St. Louis, May 12.—(AP)—"Just one of those breaks," Rogers Hornsby declared today as he considered the plight of his battered Browns. "The pitching was worse than I thought—and there's nothing goes right when your pitching goes wrong," said Hornsby, explaining his club's 13 consecutive American League defeats.

And this team the Browne manager, and others, too, had thought would lead the second division and perhaps run some of the first division teams ragged.

What happened? Until yesterday the pitching wasn't much different from that last year when the team finished the season in handsome fashion. In other departments the Browns are as strong or stronger than last year, and rampaged through the spring training season to the top of the grapefruit circuit.

Poor Pitching.

Yesterday, mournful fans agreed, five members of the pitching staff combined in one of the poorest hurling exhibitions seen here in years, giving the White Sox 22 hits, 12 passes and hitting one better.

Fans blame the team's condition on two things. One is the schedule that hustled it back and forth over the midwest in single series engagements, then sent it on a long eastern journey without giving the players a chance to become accustomed to things at home.

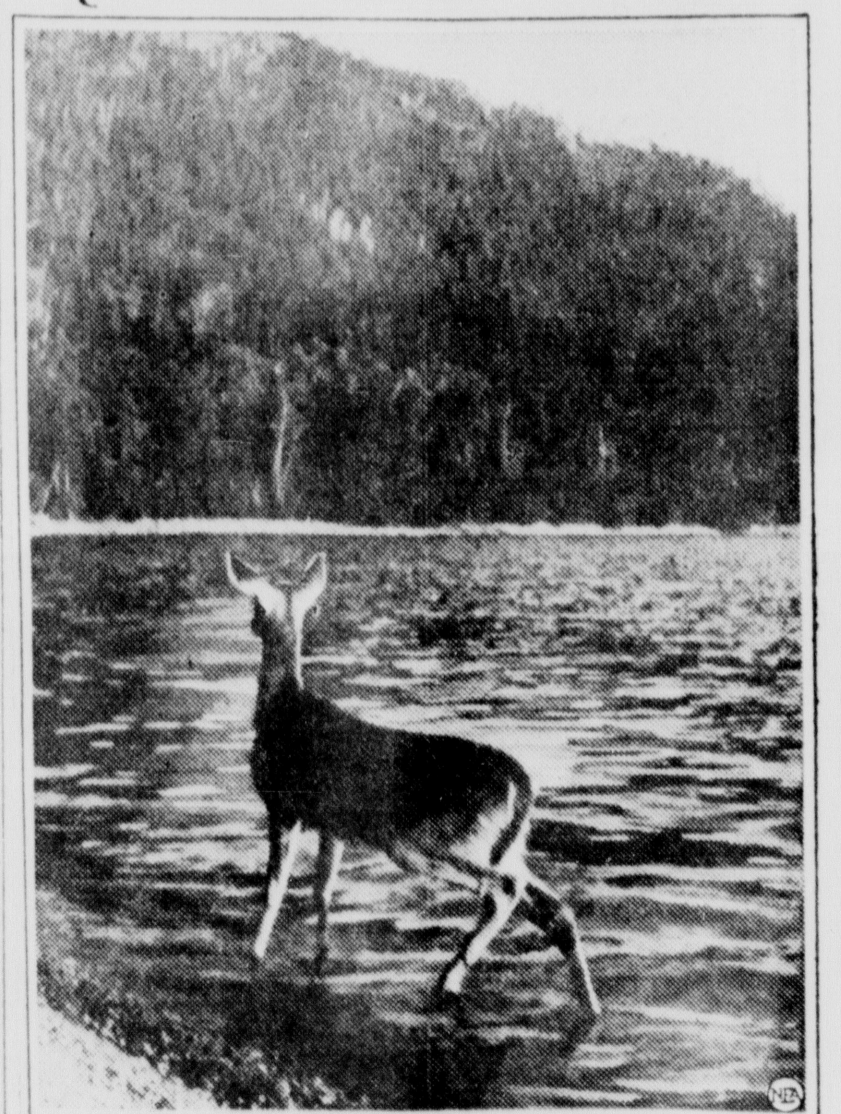

The other is rumored lack of harmony. But the last is out, Hornsby asserted today.

"I've never seen a finer or more loyal bunch of men and I know they're trying 100 per cent," he said. "They'll get going."

A dense growth of timber has blotted out most of the undergrowth on the hillside bordering this lake and diminished the available food for this young deer, headed for a feeding ground. Pennsylvania, supporting a vast number of deer, is faced with the problem of thinning out the timber to encourage growth of shoots, vines, and bushes, and provide sustenance for starving herds.

$400,000 Prize For Seven Stakes This Year At Arlington

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—The Arlington Park jockey club dangled a $400,000 pot of gold before thoroughbred owners today.

Seven stake races are on the program of the park's meeting which opens June 29 and closes August 1, with added money totaling $87,500 and the total purse distribution amounting to about $400,000. The Arlington classic, which usually determines the three-year-old championship, has been set for July 25 and will carry $30,000 in added money.

QUADRUPLETS STAY AT HOME

Wealthy Californians Provide Money For N. J. Youngsters

Passaic, N. J., May 12.—(AP)—The Kasper quadruplets—Frances, Frank, Ferdinand and Felix—were "doing fine" today, both physically and financially.

St. Mary's hospital, where the tiny tots gave doctors and nurses a brief scare yesterday, reported the physical progress.

To look out for their economic welfare, the quadruplets had a business manager, Mayor Benjamin F. Turner of Passaic, and a host of admirers. Gifts were arriving at the Kasper home in Little Ferry and one enthusiast reported he had ordered a baby coach for four.

The first offer which Mayor Turner, a former trolley car motor-man and policeman, accepted was one of $500 with which to buy necessities for the babies and $100 a month to pay rent for the family in a better home. The offer was telegraphed from San Francisco by Mrs. Edmond E. Herscher.

"My wife and I talked it over and decided the babies ought to have a decent home," said Herscher, wealthy attorney, "and that the whole family should be kept together—or not separated as was the case with the Dionne children."

"That's all there is to it," he added.

Emil Kasper, $22-a-week round house laborer, and Mrs. Kasper, mother of two children besides the quadruplets, signed papers naming the mayor business manager of the four infants while Dr. Frank P. Jani, the family's 32-year-old doctor, stood at Mrs. Kasper's bedside and watched.

The commission "suspended" Knight's right to attend either boxing or wrestling matches in Illinois for one year.

MILLER DROPS HIS CROWN TO SYRIAN BOXER

Washington, May 12.—(AP)—Pete Sarron, dark Syrian, could smile today in spite of a cut above his left eye, his only memento of the furious 15-rounder in which he outpointed Freddie Miller to win the National Boxing Association's world's featherweight championship.

After more than a dozen years of hard knocks, the ex-newsboy from Birmingham, Ala., last night found the end of his fistie rainbow.

Three times he had been whipped by Miller, the clever southpaw who won the crown three years ago from Tommy Paul, but last night the stocky 28-year-old fighter with his buzzsaw flailing, swarmed over Miller, ran up an early lead on points and came within an eyelash of scoring a knockout in the 13th and 15th rounds.

Promises Fighting Career

"I'm going to be a fighting champion," Sarron promised as admirers crowded into his dressing room early this morning. "Freddie can have a return bout anytime he wants it. Freddie can't hit me." Sarron jumped about the room, laughing, shaking hands and signing autographs.

Over in the other dressing room, Miller sat with both hands propped on his table and his face in his hands. His eyes were so puffed one couldn't tell whether or not there were tears in them.

Keenly disappointed over the loss of his crown, the first time he had been whipped in the 20 times he has risked it, Miller had little to say.

More than 20,000 persons crowded into the American League ball park to see Washington's first championship fight. The gate was around $40,000, with Miller getting $10,000 and Sarron $1,500.

RED CROSS MUST HAVE 5,000,000 MEMBERS IN '36

Forced to Draw on Its Resources to Meet Demands Made Upon It

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt likened the American Red Cross to the federal government in a letter read Monday at the organization's national convention.

"Perhaps one reason for the support, the respect, yes, even the love which our Red Cross inspires in all of us is that it is so typically democratic," the president said.

"Like the government itself, you maintain national headquarters in Washington. Like the government, your organization is composed of the rank and file of the people in every county of every state and territory in the union. And, like the government, you exist only to serve to the best of your ability the people who created you."

The president is also president of the Red Cross.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, said the organization's greatest problems this spring were the floods and tornadoes.

Summarized Losses

He summarized the loss of those disasters as affecting 20 states, damaging the property of 649,000 persons, including 4,500 homes destroyed or seriously damaged by tornadoes. More than 500 deaths resulted and more than 9,000 persons were injured, he said. Floods sent 140,000 families from their homes, he said.

Admiral Grayson said extraordinary needs of the depression had forced the Red Cross to draw $3,000,000 from its reserves and that a goal of 5,000,000 members must be reached in the roll call if the organization were to remain prepared to meet its responsibilities.

He announced the authorization of a retirement system for Red Cross employees which he said was being inaugurated in the national organization. When that is completed, he said, regulations will be issued under which chapters may participate in the plan.

Red Cross organizers announced that rapid expansion of volunteer personnel to give emergency first aid in motor accident cases was deemed a major project. Admiral Grayson pointed yesterday to more than 36,000 killed and 105,000 maimed in 1935 alone as the motivating force.

Plan 3,000 Stations
Already the Red Cross, since launching the service six months ago, had placed 1,000 emergency stations, manned by volunteers, in operation and has designated a total of 3,000 stations for establishment in 30 states.

"Eventually there will be 15,000 stations with first aid workers ready to give aid in those precious moments x x x between the time of the injury and admission to a hospital," Grayson said.

So timely and important was the problem considered that the Wednesday convention session was set aside for discussion of "emergency first aid on the highway" under the direction of Maj. Harry F. Evans, chairman of the Davenport, Iowa, chapter.

New Deal

Exclusive government spending and mounting taxes, said Fred H. Clausen, are the biggest stumbling blocks to a return of normal business activity. Clausen, a Horicon, Wis., manufacturer, as chairman of the federal finance committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce, composed largely of small business men, has been one of the leading critics of New Deal excesses.

He declared the corporate tax bill pending before congress is utterly unworkable; that it will prevent restoration of employment in heavy goods industries; weaken sound corporations; favor well established companies at the expense of small concerns; put business in the hands of the government; change the social order at a time when stability is needed.

At a meeting of the New York State Chamber of Commerce the proposed tax was described as a menace to industrial recovery, business stability, employment, and national welfare in general.

Dr. Hugh S. Magill, president of the American Federation of Investors, who achieved nation-wide prominence last year when he defied the senate lobby (Black) investigating committee and refused confidential information demanded by the committee's paid snipers, attacked the measure as an example of "the administration's unreasoning hostility toward private industry, conceived in utter disregard for the interests of frugal, thrifty, taxpaying citizens."

"The United States is now in the cockpit stage; the highball period will follow; then the headache." Thus does Dr. Cyril F. James, professor of the Wharton school, sum up the present situation. He warned in a Philadelphia address of the possibility of a crisis as severe, if not worse, than that which began the 1929 depression.

COMBINED CIRCUS PRESENTING FAMOUS STARS: DONZELLE SENSATION, NEW EUROPEAN THRILLER

Circus corporation spends young fortune to equip bigger and greater organization—more animals, people—augmented programme.

The programme has been recently augmented by several new and stupendous features, notable among which is the newly imported display of jungle-bred trained wild beasts acquired by representatives of Seils-Sterling, in Europe, at tremendous cost. Wild animal experts all over the world unanimously agree that these groups of jungle beasts are the very finest ever subjugated by man. Fabulous salaries have induced many of the world's greatest arena artists to affix their signatures to Seils-Sterling Circus contracts for this season. Truly our sole incentive in assembling this remarkable performance has been to obtain the best regardless of expense.

Many new ideas have been adopted, both for the convenience and comfort of our patrons. Wherever attaches come in direct contact with the public they have been schooled to the last degree, in courtesy, and the slightest complaint of their being discourteous results in their immediate dismissal.

Those who prefer to attend the night performance, will see the identical programme that is exhibited in the afternoon—not one feature being curtailed or omitted. The tents are brilliantly lighted by four monster electric generators. This sets the entire circus grounds ablaze with illumination. Beautiful colored neon "flashes" ornamental chandeliers, and high-powered spot lights add much to the dazzling beauty of the interior of the "big top."

The Seils-Sterling Circus has firmly established itself as a noteworthy institution throughout the entire continent, and its motto from the beginning has been "quality, honesty and cleanliness." The show has lived up to this motto during the entire growth of its organization and this season the circus has been greatly enlarged. The "Donzelle Sensation," the greatest thriller of all time, first American appearance, in their graceful and daring achievement, "The Plunge of Death," positively will be presented at both afternoon and night performances.

DAILY HEALTH

NICOTINE POISONING
The disastrous effects of "the first smoke" is a popular theme for the cartoonist's crayon. Those who smoke can usually recall the discomfort induced by their initial contact with the weed. The human body, however, soon acquires a tolerance for the products of tobacco smoking, so that, except in the case of those who are hypersensitive, moderate smoking does not produce nicotine poisoning.

Contact with nicotine may, however, be had otherwise than through smoking, chewing or snuffing. Cigarette and cigarette makers may inhale tobacco dust and workers who handle concentrated nicotine may have their skins splashed with it. Nicotine is also a common ingredient of certain insecticides, which at times have been swallowed accidentally or used for suicide. Nicotine taken internally, even in small doses, may prove rapidly fatal. It causes a generalized paralysis of the central nervous system, with the cessation of respiration as the terminal issue.

There is no known, effective, antidote for serious nicotine poisoning.

On the other hand, a recent study of the subject has shown that the poison itself does not cause any permanent change in the nerve structure, so that if respiration can be sustained artificially, the paralysis induced by the nicotine wears off and recovery follows.

In this respect, then, acute nicotine poisoning is a respiratory emergency comparable to that due to temporary submersion in water or electric shock. Artificial respiration plus stimulation of the heart has in animal experimentation proved competent in resuscitating some 50 animals poisoned with nicotine.

As Skyscrapers Blinked Greeting to New Giant of Ocean Airlines

This awe-inspiring spectacle, the giant Zeppelin Hindenburg flying high through the morning mist over New York City, thrilled early risers in Manhattan and brought a thunderous din of salutes from hundreds of vessels honoring the successful inauguration of commercial air travel across the North Atlantic. Myriad lights blinked from towering skyscrapers as the shadowy form of the Zeppelin stole across the scene. Here the Hindenburg is pictured floating over the Waldorf and RCA buildings just as dawn was lighting the sky.

MISS CROMBIE GIVES REPORT ON HOSPITAL Board Must Always Be Composed Of Women

(This is the third of a series of articles written by Dixon high school students who recently participated in the city government project sponsored by the senior civics classes.)

By RUTH CROMBIE
Chairman of the Hospital Board

The Katherine Shaw Bethea Hospital was established in the summer of 1895 when Solomon Bethea bought the present site and donated it to the city. On November 1, 1895 the city council passed a resolution to establish and maintain a hospital. The hospital has always been self-supporting with the exception of a $500 appropriation made annually by the city. This fund is used for charity patients. It is a standard hospital with a bed capacity of sixty.

The hospital board consists of nine women appointed by the mayor. An interesting note is that one of the requests of Solomon Bethea was that the board always be composed of women. The board meets once a month and has charge of all matters pertaining to the hospital and to the selection of student nurses.

The present staff consists of a superintendent, night supervisor, surgical nurse, anesthetist, technician, dietician, three supervisors, a bookkeeper, and an instructor of students.

A three-year training course for student nurses is maintained. This course consists of two and one-half years at the local hospital and an additional half year at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, with which it is affiliated. The hospital is approved by the American College of Surgeons and the American Hospital Association.

In the year of 1935 the hospital discharged 1181 patients, including all out patients. Of these there were 589 surgical patients, 284 medical patients, 175 obstetrical patients, and 177 babies. The average patients per day was 35. The number of patients handled each year by the hospital is increasing steadily. In 1932-306 patients were discharged, in 1933 851, in 1934 1032, and in 1935 1181.

SIMPLE SPRAY MAY PREVENT POLIOMYELITIS

Kansas City, Mo., May 12.—(AP)—Plans at the Rockefeller Institute to try a newly discovered method of protecting children against infantile paralysis this coming summer and fall were announced to the American Medical Association here today.

Thomas M. Rivers, M. D., of Rockefeller Institute, one of the foremost virus experts in medicine, told of the hoped for infantile paralysis preventive. The paralysis is caused by a virus, a disease agent too small to be found with a microscope.

Experiments in the past year at Rockefeller Institute and elsewhere have revealed that several simple nasal sprays seem able to prevent entry of the paralysis virus into living bodies. The experiments will be made with these sprays.

"Although the use of vaccines and sera," said Dr. Rivers, "at present offers little of value in the prevention and treatment of poliomyelitis, the results of work with agents of another nature seem to present hope that a method of controlling the disease eventually may be evolved."

FOURTH SPECIAL SESSION OF LAW MAKERS IS NEAR

Horner May Issue Call Within Next Day or So, Aides Say

Springfield, Ill., May 12.—(AP)—Aides of Gov. Horner said today that the call for the fourth special session to consider amendments to the old age pension law, permanent registration and an insurance code was being drafted, and probably would be issued in the next or so.

Success of the election law amendments appeared to rest with Chicagoans who defeated it in the third special session last winter, but legislators arriving early from Chicago for this week's session of the second special session on relief, starting tonight, said they would vote for changes in the pension laws.

"Whatever changes are necessary to get federal approval and financial aid for Illinois' pension system should be passed," Sen. George Maypole, Chicago Democrat, said, "but I believe Chicagoans will continue to vote against a registration bill that provides for anything but statewide administration."

Against Registration
"As a matter of fact, I am against registration entirely but would vote for a statewide bill over an exclusive Chicago measure."

The pension amendments were said by the federal social security board last week to be necessary before U. S. aid for Illinois would be given.

The principal job before the second special session this week was passage of a $4,500,000 stop-gap appropriation for relief in May and June. The money would supplement sales tax funds for relief until July 1 when the township administration of relief will become effective.

Horner said last week he would sign the bill immediately on its passage since the Illinois Relief Commission said it had funds to provide relief only until next Friday.

DIPHTHERIA IS CONCENTRATED IN SMALL TOWNS

Springfield, Ill., May 12.—(AP)—Diphtheria apparently has concentrated in the small municipalities of Illinois, following the trends of typhoid fever and infantile diarrhea, public health director Frank Jirka declared today.

Communities of 500 to 5,000 population last year had a death rate of 4.3 for each 100,000 persons, Dr. Jirka said, while the mortality rate in rural areas was two and in cities of 5,000 and up was 2.4 for each 100,000 population.

The difference in the rates was ascribed by the director as due to the rural children being less frequently exposed although inoculation may be neglected.

Declaring that constant efforts were required to conquer the disease, the director said "the weakest point in organized public health machinery of Illinois is the small town and rural district."

Five one-day regional conferences for public health nurses and officers of non-professional health organizations were announced by Jirka. The dates and places for the meetings were listed as: May 15, East St. Louis; May 18, Peoria; May 20, Urbana; May 22, Elgin; May 26, Moline.

Manufacture of ale or beer was known by the Egyptians of ancient days.

ELECTRIFYING RURAL HOMES SPEEDING UP

Eighty-five Per Cent of State Counties Being Organized

Urbana, Ill., May 12.—Organized effort is being made in 85 per cent of the counties in Illinois to obtain electric service for more farm homes, according to R. R. Parks, extension specialist in rural electrification, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. He has just completed a series of 10 district conferences on the subject throughout the state.

Delegates to the conference were farmer-members of the rural electrification subcommittees of the county program-building committees and farm and home advisers. Discussion was led by representatives of the extension service, power companies, Illinois Agricultural Association, Illinois State Commerce Commission and the Rural Electrification Administration.

Interest Evident

Local interest in rural electrification rates, financing of lines, control of companies, cooperatives, municipal organizations and loans through the Rural Electrification Administration were among the subjects brought before the conferences. Attention was also given to plans whereby farmers can get electricity by cooperative effort through the local power company or other interested organizations ready to provide the service.

These plans, according to Parks, will be worked out as a project of the rural electrification division of the program-building committee in each county. These committees are functioning through the coopera-

OBSERVANCE OF "CONSERVATION WEEK" NOW ON

Observance of Illinois first Conservation week began yesterday and will continue through the remainder of this week. The state departments of conservation and public works and buildings are collaborating in the work for the week and Conservation Inspector Charles Duis of this city is urging all citizens to participate in the programs which have been arranged. The citizenship of Illinois will receive interesting information throughout the week through a series of radio broadcasts on subjects which are of vital interest:

Soil erosion—pre-emption and restoration of soil properties; prevention of destructive erosion, effect of erosion on stream conditions, erosion of soil loss by wind.

Water and stream conditions—Industrial and municipal pollution control and abatement; effect of erosion.

Reforestation, including all vegetation plantings—Denuded areas are potential erosion areas; aridity sequel to deforestation; protective cover and feed for birds and game essential to their perpetuation; practice of promiscuous burning of vegetation in rural districts prevents any young tree growth, and permanently injures older trees; also destroys the humus of the soil, desirability of plantings extends to ornamental and small tracts as well as major reforestation projects.

The above and many other interesting subjects will be presented daily in lectures over radio.

Attractive illustrated booklets on the subject of conservation in Illinois have been distributed in Dixon to the following places of business, where they may be obtained upon application: Covert cigar store, Fuls confectionery, Ace hardware store, Slothower hardware store, W. H. Ware hardware store and in the sporting goods department at the Montgomery Ward store.

Turtle oil from Mexico is now being used as an ingredient in beauty preparations.

NURSES will find Record Sheets at The B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

Herrings require 12 hours' curing before they are "kippered."

ROCHELLE YOUTH REALIZES $600 FROM PROJECT

Began His Long Time Project 3 Years Ago When Frosh

John William, Jr., a junior at the Rochelle township high school who lives along the Meridian highway, north of Rochelle, made a profit of almost six hundred dollars last year from farm projects which he is carrying out. The project is part of his work in the agricultural department at the high school.

Williams started on this long time project in his freshman year with livestock and corn. He bought a beef heifer for five dollars and set out five acres of corn. He realized a profit of $73 on the corn, but lost $24 on the heifer.

In his second year, however, all of his projects showed a profit. He bought a purebred gilt for $30. There was a spring litter of six and a fall litter of six from this gilt. At the end of the year's project, on the pigs alone he realized a profit of $229. From 10 acres of corn he cleared $260. In addition to this, he made $85 on his cattle.

Project Too Large
But his project last summer was getting too large, so that he went into partnership with his father on the hog part of the program. Not content with his activities in corn, livestock and hogs, Williams last summer started in the chicken business by buying 150 baby chicks. Of this number, he kept 50 pullets after selling the cockerels.

At the present time Williams is preparing for the third summer of his project. Having demonstrated his ability to manage the project successfully during the first two years, he is planning to expand his project still further.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, he has been actively connected with young farmers' organizations in this vicinity. He was the reporter of his local 4-H club, the northeast Ogle county group, in 1934. He was elected vice president of the club in 1935 and 1936. At the present time he is treasurer of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

He has been on corn and fat stock judging teams and has competed in sectional and state meets. In 1934, he was the Ogle corn club champion.

Ogle County Dairy Report

The association average for the month of April was 820 pounds of milk and 30.69 pounds of fat with 382 cows on test. Twenty-nine of the 382 cows on test were dry. During the month 15 unprofitable cows were culled from the herd. One hundred cows were in the select group producing over 40 pounds of butterfat. The high cow was a P. B. H. owned by T. J. Matychowak, producing 1996 pounds of milk and 103.8 pounds of butterfat in 28 days. One of 6 separators tested was losing over .05 per cent.

A herd of 12 P. B. H. and G. H. owned by Ralph Pyse led the association with an average production of 1209 pounds of milk and 42.27 pounds of fat. None of the cows were dry. These cows were being fed 30 pounds silage and 12 pounds choice alfalfa hay daily. The grain ration consisted of two parts corn and one part oats. This ration with the addition of soybean oilmeal was fed strictly according to production.

A herd of 9 P. B. H. cows owned by J. W. Hemmaway was second in production with an average of 1088 pounds of milk and 41.14 pounds of fat. None of the cows were dry.

Lee M. Gentry's herd of 37 P. B. H. cows averaged 1007 pounds of milk and 36.94 pounds of fat. Two of the 37 cows on test were dry.

Richard Magee's herd of 11 P. B. H. produced at an average of 1026 pounds of milk and 36.20 pounds of fat. No cows were dry.

Forrest Gillespie's herd of 10 P. B. H. cows averaged 1006 pounds of milk and 36.14 pounds of fat. No cows were dry.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

This week something happened in the poultry business which had never been heard of before. A carload of Plymouth Rock springs weighing 3½ pounds was shipped from New Jersey to Chicago.

We have always had the idea here in the Middle West that the people in the East were dependent on us for their chickens.

We once had the idea they were dependent on us for their ducks, too. I remember my father's telling about the time when he had 60,000 ducks on feed out in Iowa. Raising ducks was a big part of our poultry business twenty-five years ago.

Then one morning we woke up to the fact that people in the East didn't need our ducks any longer—they were raising their own out on Long Island!

We had supposed nobody else could raise ducks because they didn't have grain. But they were feeding them fish! And they were getting them up to market weight in a much shorter time than we did. Furthermore, we had put ducks on the market in the Fall and considered we were doing people a favor. The Long Island people laughed at us and put them on the market the year around!

Because they did a better job of raising ducks than we ever had done, they took the duck business away from the Middle West. Will We Lose the Poultry Business?
A couple of weeks ago I wrote you that the commercial poultry men had taken the white egg business away from us and that now a group in Washington had started on a brown egg program.

With the white eggs they also took the broiler business (1½ to 2 pound cockerels). That was all right with me because I have always felt that here in the Middle West, where we have our own grain, we can make more money by raising cockerels, to roasting size, anyway.

You have often heard me say, "Leave the broilers and white eggs to the commercial poultry men, produce brown eggs and big chickens, and you won't have any competition."

I can't say that any more! Not when they cut into our brown egg business and ship 3½ pound chickens right into the heart of the Middle West—on the first of May! And it used to be a treat for the "city cousins" to come to the country for fried chicken on the Fourth of July!

Are we going to sit here with the grain and watch other people take the poultry business away from us by getting equipment which makes them independent of the weather and by managing better than we do?

They'll do it if we let them! There doesn't seem to be any question about that.

If we want to stay in the poultry business we must put poultry raising on a business basis. And we must do it quickly!

Sincerely yours,
Frank Pribe

ROWS ON SLOPE CAUSE SEVERE SOIL DAMAGE

650 Times More Soil Lost by Cultivation of Slopes

According to an article which was printed in the magazine "Better Crops" for April, a sloping plot of ground near Ithaca, N. Y., planted last summer to potatoes in rows up and down hill lost 650 times as much soil and 14 times as much water from July 7 to November 15 as two adjoining plots planted to potatoes, oats, and clover in strips across the slope. The three plots, at the Arnot erosion experiment station of the Soil Conservation Service, were each 21 feet wide and 311 feet long, with a slope of 7 per cent on the upper half and 14 per cent on the lower.

The plot planted up and down the slope lost almost 14 tons of soil per acre and nearly 14 per cent of 18 inches of rainfall. The two strip plots each lost only 43 pounds of soil per acre. The run of soil was 1.1 per cent on one plot and only .35 per cent on the other. The Arnot station, first in the Northeast, has completed its first year of operation.

Lee Farmers Get Benefits
Farmers in Lee County, living on hilly land, will receive benefits by adopting the method of plowing land. In the same magazine it is stated that Jefferson made the following remark in regard to his land in Albemarle county, Va., "Our country is hilly and we have been in the habit of plowing in straight rows, whether up or down hill, or however they lead, and our soil was all rapidly running into the rivers. We now plow horizontally following the curvature of the hills and hollows on dead level, however crooked the lines may be. Every furrow thus acts as a reservoir to receive and retain the waters, all of which go to the benefits of the growing plant instead of running off into the streams." This was written in 1813.

Last week we viewed a field in the northwest part of the county which was in seedling this past year. The dead furrows were plowed in the field and left lying up and down the hill, and in the lower part of this field the momentum of water had cut a very large ravine and is getting deeper every day during the rainy season.

"Rain falling on over-worked fields, washing through gullies, sweeping down streams and rivers, carrying rich soil out to sea, is no respecter of county lines, boundary lines, or economic classes. It is as much the concern of a consumer 1,000 miles away as it is of the farmer on whose land it fell." By H. R. Tolley, Acting Administrator of Triple A.

This all-mash ration may be fed until the chicks are 8 weeks old. After this period the ration should be supplemented with a grain mixture of equal parts of cracked yellow corn, whole wheat and bulled oats. Waters recommends.

The mash should be kept before the chicks at all times throughout the growing period. The grain may also be fed in hoppers. When the chicks are 12 weeks of age, they should be allowed equal parts of mash and grain fed separately. Nutrients essential for most economical gains in weight (protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals) are supplied in proper amounts in the above feeding recommendations. Waters has found. In addition plenty of clean water will aid digestion and circulation, he points out.

The Bible, or some part of it, now has been translated into more than 900 languages.

BABy CHICKS ARE LATER OWING TO COLD FEBRUARY

Must Force Chicks To Secure Early Laying Hens

Lee county farmers are discovering that the poor hatchability and small numbers of eggs caused by the extremely cold weather of February has resulted in a late baby chick season this spring.

Poultry raisers are faced with the problem of pushing chicks faster than usual this year in order to get the pullets into production early enough to take advantage of the usual rise in egg prices in the fall.

A good chick ration to accomplish this needed faster growth and development is recommended by Dr. N. P. Waters of the poultry husbandry staff at Iowa State college. The following ration, one that has been successfully used at the college poultry farm, may be mixed at home in small quantities or can be supplied by local elevators in larger amounts than would be convenient to mix on the farm:

Ground yellow corn, 39 parts; ground oats, 20 parts; wheat bran, 10 parts; wheat middlings, 10 parts; dried milk, 5 parts; alfalfa meal, 5 parts; and salt, 1 part. Liquid skim-milk may be substituted for dried milk. Waters states, and 1 per cent cod-liver oil should be provided until the chicks go out on range.

The Rochelle Asparagus Company commences Summer Operations

The Rochelle Asparagus Co. is said to be the largest green asparagus canning company in the United States and the product is shipped to all parts of the country. During the past winter a new plant was erected to meet the growing demands of the business.

The asparagus crop is usually harvested before the other canning plants in Rochelle begin operations.

A new administration building will be constructed at the Jackson, Miss. municipal airport.

WEARING OUT OF SOIL REVEALED IN LEE COUNTY

Sane Conservation Program Advised by C. E. Yale

Urgency of improving the use of farm land in Lee county and other parts of Illinois is shown by the fact that yields are barely being maintained in spite of all the modern methods of agriculture, according to Farm Adviser Chas. E. Yale.

The new soil conservation program which encourages the growing of legumes crops and soil-conserving crops as a means of building up the fertility of the soil and maintaining its productivity is designed to meet such a need, he stated.

In seeking desirable changes in land use and the probable effects of these changes on total production, the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station cooperating with the federal department of agriculture made a study recently of the effects of introducing improved cropping systems and a better long-time use of land.

Yields Decreasing
Despite improvement in cultural practices, improved varieties of crops and increased knowledge of production, soils are being depleted at such a rapid rate that the average yields of important crops have barely been maintained, the study shows.

"This fact is more significant since some of the least desirable crop land has already been removed from production, and additional land of high productivity has been added to the crop area through drainage," according to Illinois Farm Economics, a monthly circular issued by the department of agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"Recent emphasis has been placed upon the need of shifting some land which has been used either for pasture or for cropping to the growing of timber or for recreational use," the circular continues. "In addition small tracts of many farms can best be protected from serious erosion by using them for woodland purposes, and the net income from such land will probably be increased. Other land now cultivated is better adapted to permanent pasture than to crop purposes. The new program will encourage making these adjustments."

POPPY DAY, MAY 23
With the approach of Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30, American patriotic organizations can render a valuable service to the nation by properly observing this occasion, the Horace F. Ort Post No. 549 V. F. W., reminded them today.

Memorial Day belongs exclusively to the honored dead of the nation and to the memory of their sacrifice. Returning from the battlefields of France where the poppies grew in such profusion among the crosses row on row, it was natural the poppy should exert its appeal upon the hearts and minds of overseas veterans.

Beneath those white crosses sleep more than 50,000 comrades left behind to keep watch. Dixons are asked to wear a buddy poppy on Memorial Day. They are made in veterans hospitals by disabled soldiers and citizens are asked to remember Poppy Day, Saturday, May 23.

Washington, May 12.—(AP)—Ohio's broad political arena, scene of preliminary skirmishing for many months, today became a war-torn theater of operations for warring factions of both major parties.

Observers in the Capitol awaited the results as voters of the fourth most populous state balloted in the Democratic and Republican primaries. The total vote was expected to approximate 1,360,000, a record.

In addition to presidential entries, there were complete slates for state, legislative, judicial and county offices.

On the Republican side, the prime struggle was the presidential contest between Sen. Borah of Idaho, and Robert A. Taft, "favorite son" choice of the Buckeye state's Republican organization.

Taft Assured of 17
The "favorite son" entry was assured at least 17 of the 52 convention delegates because Taft was entered in all districts, while Borah forces were entered in only 35 contests.

On the Democratic side President Roosevelt was opposed by Henry Breckinridge of New York who previously has lost to the chief executive in Maryland and Pennsylvania. Breckinridge seeks only presidential preferential votes and is not entered against the President in the ballot.
